Government Economy Stressed by Coolidge

BIG CUTS IN U. S. BUDGET RECOMMENDED

Estimate Submitted to Congress Today by the President

Coolidge Practices
What He Preaches to Congress in Message

Washington, Dec. 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—The cost of running the federal government in the fiscal year 1926 was fixed by President Coolidge, in the annual budget sent to Congress today, at $3,729,519,846.48, or a reduction of $59,225,931.72 from the estimated expenditures of the current year.

The estimates for the principal expenditures for the next fiscal year follow:

Public debt	$380,000,000
Post office department	484,786,130
War department	338,551,230
Navy department	289,783,978
Interior department	267,785,596
Treasury department	163,847,741
Agriculture department	140,092,750
Commerce department	22,741,514
Justice department	24,917,822
State department	16,139,652
Labor department	8,375,239
Veterans Bureau	405,700,000
Shipping Board	24,330,000
Interstate Commerce Com.	4,913,500
Tariff Commission	721,500
Federal Trade Commission	950,000
Vocational Education Board	5,222,270
White House Executive offices	439,960
Senate	2,559,249
House	6,395,751
District of Columbia	32,335,827

The estimates of six major departments or other agencies of the government—Interior, Navy, War, Treasury, Shipping Board and Veterans Bureau—were reduced in the new budget while there was only one notable increase—that for the Department of Agriculture.

Practically all of the $26,000,000 reduction in the Interior Department total was due to the smaller allotment for the Pension Bureau. That bureau's outlay was cut from $24,516,000 for the current year to $19,116,000 for the next year, largely because of the decreasing pension roll resulting from the death of pensioners.

Big Cut in Navy Cost

The cut of $23,000,000 in the Navy's total was scattered over many items of expenditure, but a large part of it was due to a reduction of the fund set aside under the heading of "Improvement of the Navy." It is understood supplemental estimates for needed construction will go to Congress later. The Budget Director's report to the President declared that under the total allowed the Navy can continue at its present enlisted strength of 36,000 men; the Marine Corps will have provision for 18,000 men instead of the present 19,500; the naval reserve force will continue on practically the present basis; it will be possible to increase the average steaming range of battleships from 19,400 miles to 23,700; two more of the submarines authorized in 1916 can be laid down; new aircraft can be purchased; and it will be possible to continue work "at a normal rate of speed on all new ships under construction within the limitation of authorized cost."

There were scattered reductions totaling $8,600,000 in the War department's allowance, but no particular branch of the military service was singled out for reduced appropriations. Under the total authorized the Budget Bureau declared, the regular army can continue on its present basis of 12,000 officers and an average enlisted strength of 118,000; the number of reserve officers who can be trained will remain about the same; attendance at the citizens training camps must be limited to 29,000 instead of 33,000 in the current year; and the Militia Bureau will be able to maintain an average strength of 173, a reduction of $500 from the present authorization. The Air Service allotment was increased from $14,900,000 (Continued on Page 3)

MRS. CHAPLIN'S AGE IS PROVEN TO BE 16 YEARS

Therefore Wife of Comedian Must Continue Lessons.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Los Angeles, Calif., Dec. 2.—A photographic copy of the sixteen year old birth certificate of Lillian Louise McMurtry, or Lita Grey of the movies, who recently became Mrs. Charles Chaplin, was tossed onto the Chaplin lawn early today.

It became known from a page of the Los Angeles Times where the activities of reporters had conspired to place it for comparison with the Mexican marriage records, which last week depicted Lita Grey as a 19 year old bride.

According to the published certificate Miss Grey was born near Hollywood, April 15, 1908. She later attended two schools in Los Angeles, records of which reveal the same date.

True she was 13 when Chaplin "discovered" her and set her on the ladder of film fame, and 16 years old when he led her to the altar last week.

Must Continue Lessons

This, according to the compulsory schooling law of California, makes Mrs. Chaplin subject to the requirements of educational authorities, whose duty it is to see that no minor escapes schooling until after he or she has past their 16th birthday.

This does not necessarily mean, school authorities point out, that the film comedian's bride will have to go back to school since the law allows instruction by tutors to be substituted for the class room brand. But one way or another, says the law, she will have to "keep up with her lessons."

Neither Chaplin nor his bride could be interviewed last night, reports invariably being met at the Chaplin gate with a "yes, we are not at home" from a servant.

Mrs. Spicer, mother of the bride, admitted her daughter's age had been incorrectly stated in the Mexican marriage license, but explained it was done "for business reasons."

Herrin Telephone Operators Strike; Minus Fire Alarms

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Herrin, Ill., Dec. 2.—Herrin paid the penalty of no telephone service last night when fire destroyed a house on South Twenty-sixth street before the occupants could travel sixteen blocks to summon the fire department. An adjacent house was badly damaged.

The Illinois Southern Telephone Company, in a public statement declared the strike of the operators was an "outlaw strike" and that "if the trades council and public generally support the members of the Telephone Operators' Union 189 A, in this action, so far as the company is concerned, service in Herrin is suspended indefinitely."

The statement further said that "no emergency service of any kind will be furnished."

PUBLICATION OF TAX DATA IS HELD LEGAL BY REEVES

Federal Judge Says Prohibition of Facts is Unconstitutional.

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—Federal Judge A. S. Reeves today sustained the demurrer of W. S. Dickey, owner and editor of the Kansas City Journal-Post and Ralph Ellis, general managing editor, to indictments charging alleged illegal publication of federal income tax returns.

The clause in the law holding that publication of income tax returns was illegal, Judge Reeves said in effect in announcing his decision in violation of the first amendment to the federal constitution, relative to the freedom of the press.

Arguing the demurrer yesterday, United States Senator James A. Reed representing the defense, declared the clause of the income tax law prohibiting publication of returns violated the constitution of the United States.

"If a newspaper owner can be sent to jail for printing the mere fact that John Jones had paid an income tax of $1 or any other amount, then it is time to haul down the American flag," Senator Reed declared.

"We do not exercise our rights and liberties because they have been conferred on us by the constitution of the United States," he said. "We are the source of all power and all authority and every agency of this government is a mere servant and agent of the people."

The defense argued the income tax figures published by the newspapers had been made public by the collector of internal revenues contended that publication of the amounts of tax paid by individuals did not constitute publication of part of the income tax returns. It was pointed out that the computation of tax due made by the individual often times was corrected by the internal revenue bureau in cases where mistakes had been made by the tax payers.

United States District Attorney Madison, for the government, argued that the income tax law clearly set out provisions prohibiting the publication of income tax returns in part or in whole.

Canal Lease, Gateway Amendment in Discard

Votes cast for the gateway amendment were 94,665 and against 39,839. It required a majority of all votes cast for legislators, however, and these were 2,192,139 votes for the legislature.

The $100,000,000 hard road bond issue obtained a majority of 465,572 votes. The affirmative vote was 1,561,637 and the negative 544,250. The two amendments to the state banking law passed and will become effective as soon as the official proclamation is made by Governor Small.

CONGRESS HEARS MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT ON BUDGET FOR COMING FISCAL YEAR

Reduction of $59,225,000 in Cost of Running Government Recommended by the Director of the Budget

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Dec. 2.—President Coolidge informed Congress today that present estimates point to a surplus of revenues over expenditures of $67,884,489 for the present fiscal year and of $3,343,144 for the fiscal year 1926, but he advised against any further tax reduction until definite results from the present tax law are known.

"If we continue the campaign for economy, we will pave the way for a further reduction in taxes," the president said in a special message submitted the annual budget. "This reduction cannot be effected immediately. Before it is undertaken, we should know more definitely by actual operations what our revenues will be under our present tax law. But the knowledge of our revenue under the existing law will avail us nothing if we embark any new large expenditure program."

Upon being advised formally yesterday of the opening of the final session of the 68th congress, Mr. Coolidge advised leaders and on estimates for the next fiscal year would be transmitted today. His annual message will be sent tomorrow.

Coincident with the receipt of the budget, the appropriations committee was ready to present to the house the first of the annual supply bills, the passage of which is the chief objective of Congress in this session.

Besides an already crowded calendar coming over from the last session, the Senate had before it a new resolution adopted yesterday by the house and proposing a congressional memorial service for Woodrow Wilson in the House chamber on December 15.

A large part of the attention of Senate republicans, during the remainder of this week will be devoted to the perfection of the party organization by filling of vacancies on standing committees, caused by the death of members during the recess.

Besides the consideration of general legislation including farm relief, Muscle Shoals and that relating to railroads, the senate has a number of investigations in progress or in prospect. The Internal Revenue inquiry is going forward and the special committee under Senator Borah soon will resume its inquiry into campaign expenditures.

The oil committee also probably will again be active.

Receals His Tax Plans

The President recalled his recommendation for a reduction in taxes and said that this far in this fiscal year, previous calculations of the results had been borne out. He declared a revision of the estimates for 1925 showed that receipts for the current year should approximate $3,601,968,297 while the expenditure should not exceed $3,534,053,398 and compared these with the estimates for the next fiscal year, transmitted in the budget showing probable receipts of $3,641,259,692 and a probable cash disbursement by the Treasury of $3,351,318,743, which will include some funds appropriated, but not all expended, in the current year.

In analyzing the estimates submitted to the President said:

"For the national defense the estimates amount to $549,000,000, which is $28,000,000 less than the amount available this current fiscal year. These figures do not include nonmilitary items of the War and Navy Departments. This reduction is made in accordance with my belief that we can have adequate national defense with a more modest outlay of the taxpayers' money. Further study may point the way to additional reduction without weakening our national defense, but rather perfecting it. This nation is at peace with the world. We no longer have international competition in naval construction of major units. We are concerned primarily with maintaining adequate preparedness. We should have adequate preparedness in 1926 within the limits of the amount recommended."

Defense Industrial Problem

"Aside from the important factor of training personnel our national defense is largely an industrial problem."

Today the outstanding weakness in the industrial situation as it affects national defense is the inadequacy of facilities to supply air service needs. The airplane industry in this country at the present time is dependent almost entirely upon government business. To strengthen this industry is to strengthen our national defense. For the air service of the Army and Navy, and the Air Mail Service, the estimates, including contract authorizations, amount to $38,945,000. This contemplates an expenditure with the industries of $18,287,000 for the procurement of airplanes, engines and accessories. The remaining $20,658,000 is for maintenance, operation, experimentation and research. The amount of $38,945,000, however, does not include all that will be available for this service in 1926. Amounts contributing to the air service carried in other estimates, and usable war supplies, will make a total availability conservatively estimated at $65,000,000.

"There is also included in the national defense estimates $1,444,000 for increase of the Navy. This will provide for continuing work on the fleet submarines under construction and for beginning work on two of the four remaining fleet submarines authorized in the 1916 program. With regard to the Navy estimates, legislation is now pending which provides for additional vessels, including gunboats for use on the Yangtze river. Further estimates for increase in the Navy are dependent upon the enactment of this legislation. It will also be necessary to request of Congress legislation increasing the authorized cost of the two airplane carriers now under construction. It is being granted it will require funds for the next fiscal year not provided in the estimates contained in this Budget.

"For rivers and harbors $56,237,600 is recommended. In this is included $40,000,000 for maintenance and improvement of existing river and harbor works, $10,500,000 for flood control on the Mississippi and Sacramento rivers and $5,437,600 for the operation and maintenance of canals and the removal of wrecks and other obstructions. Of the $40,000,000 for maintenance and improvement of rivers and harbors, $21,913,315 is for new work and $17,241,555 is for maintenance. This will make possible material progress on the most important projects approved by Congress.

"It is estimated that $5,541,550 will be needed to complete Dam No. 2 at Muscle Shoals. Of this amount $3,501,290 will be required this year. This will be covered by a supplemental estimate for 1925. The balance—$2,040,260 is provided for in these estimates.

"There is included in these estimates service certificate fund established under the World War adjusted compensation act of May 19, 1924. This is for the second payment to the fund to be made in January 1, 1926. For the first payment, due January 1, 1925, $100,000,000 is included in the deficiency bill now under consideration by Congress. The applications from veterans so far have been below the estimated number which the records indicate as entitled to the benefits of the act. If the two appropriations recommended are made, it is estimated there will be a sufficient amount in the fund on January 1, 1926, to meet the demands of the act. Should the number of applications increase beyond what present experience indicates as probable, there will be ample time to submit a supplemental estimate for the additional amount necessary before that date.

U. S. Aid to States

"For federal aid to states the estimates provide in excess of $109,900,000. These sub-aids are prescribed by law. I am convinced that the broadening of this field of activity is detrimental both to Federal and state governments. Efficiency of federal operations is impaired as they relinquish and turn over to the federal (Continued on Page 3)

Eldena Man Lost Arm in Shredding Machine Accident

William King, a farmer residing east of Eldena, had his left arm torn off almost to the shoulder joint Saturday afternoon while feeding a corn shredding machine at his farm. He was wearing a mitten and this article of his clothing caught in the teeth of the shredder, drawing the arm in and shredding the flesh and bone before he could pull it away.

He was hurried to the Dixon hospital where it was found necessary to amputate the remainder of the arm at the shoulder joint. The unfortunate man was very weak from the loss of blood and the terrible pain, but is today reported to be resting as easily as can be expected and his chances for recovery are very good.

Craig Completes His Address on Explosives

W. D. Craig, superintendent of the local Gossard plant, addressed the Kiwanis club today in their regular weekly session. Several weeks ago he gave the first of a series of two highly instructive lectures on the manufacture and handling of high explosives, a subject with which he is thoroughly conversant, having been engaged in this work for several years. In his talk today, he concluded the series.

Dead After Arm is Bitten Off by Shark

J. R. Winslow, former teacher in the high school in Savannah, who was well known in Dixon, is dead as the result of a shark bite. The young man had been teaching in Porto Rico. He was in swimming when he was attacked by a man-eating shark, and one arm was bitten off. He was rescued from the water and was taken to a hospital, but died from the shock and loss of blood.

INSPECTION OF MILK SUPPLY IS KIWANIS PLAN

Discussed Matter at Noon Meeting; to Back Movement.

A proposition whereby the service of every dealer supplying milk to Dixon homes, is to undergo a rigid examination and inspection was presented before the members of the Dixon Kiwanis club at noon today and will also be outlined before the city council this evening. The condition of the cattle, barns, milk storage, plants, bottling accommodations, persons connected with the dairy, at dairies and everything relating to the producing of pure and sanitary milk for human consumption, will be embodied in the plan that has been suggested.

"We may be getting a good grade of milk in our Dixon homes and have no reason to suspect otherwise," stated one of the backers of the milk inspection movement today, "but again, we do not know the condition of the cattle from which this milk supply is derived, the kind of care they receive, the manner in which milk is handled after being taken from the cow and the condition of the bottling plants with regard to sanitation. All of this is very important when one stops to consider the amount of milk that is consumed in Dixon in one day. The city should become interested in this movement which is for the health of Dixon alone."

According to the plan, the city will be asked to secure a competent person to conduct an inspection of every dealer furnishing milk to Dixon homes and report on the condition as found. Those who are fostering the movement maintain that it is clearly a precautionary one, intended solely to safeguard the health of children and adults as well.

AGED POLOITE DEAD; WIFE IS ALSO NEAR END

Wm. Stricker Passed
Away at 10 O'clock
Monday Evening.

(Telegraph Special Service)
Polo, Dec. 2.—William Stricker, 78, a resident of Polo since his youth, passed away at his home here at 10 o'clock Monday night, death resulting from pneumonia and heart trouble. No arrangements have been made for his funeral because of the precarious condition of his aged wife, who has been at death's door for several days.

Mr. Stricker was born in Pennsylvania, coming to Polo in his youth, where, 16 years ago, he was married to Miss Mary Niman of this city. In addition to the aged widow he is survived by four daughters: Mrs. Frances Beard and Mrs. Anna Unger of Polo; Mrs. Grace Unger of DeKalb and Mrs. June Elmer of Oregon; and two sons, George of Polo and Harry of Colorado.

It has been suggested that a large steel cage constructed of bars of steel be built in the corridor, which will keep prisoners away from windows, walls and ceilings, and also the construction of a new floor. It is expected that several propositions will be submitted to the committee at this meeting for their consideration.

Fahy and Murray Lost Appeal of Their Case

Chicago, Dec. 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Federal Circuit Court of Appeals today denied the appeal of counsel for William J. Fahy and James Murray, under 25-year sentences for the Rondon $22,000,000 mail robbery, for a writ of supersedeas.

The court granted a writ of error which will permit review of the case by the Court of Appeals early next spring but ball was refused and they must start serving their sentences at the Atlanta Prison, it was ordered.

Their departure will be delayed a few days to permit conferences on their appeal with their attorneys.

Fahy, a former postal inspector, and Murray, a west side politician, were the others in the Newtons, Brent Glascock and Bert Holliday, will be sentenced Saturday on their pleas of guilty. They were the actual robbers of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul train, while Fahy, it was charged, furnished the inside information and Murray planned the holdup.

AGITATION TO REPLACE OLD JAIL SLIGHT

Majority of Building
Com. Said to Favor
Some Repairs

The Lee county board of supervisors convened in their regular December session this afternoon. County Clerk Fred G. Dimick read the list of claims paid during the quarter and the board adjourned to permit the various committees to go into session and compile their reports to be submitted.

The board at this term will be the largest report that has ever been submitted to the supervisors by Sheriff Eliot C. Hisey. During the quarter closing December 1, a covering the months of September, October and November, more prisoners have been accommodated in the county jail than at any other time in the history of the county.

Jail Needs Repairs.

Another matter of importance came before the board at this session. It was the proposition of making repairs at the county jail, which was close the opening made in the evening, Nov. 23, when two prisoners, Charles Smith, colored, and Robt. Brown, cut their way through the roof and escaped. This opening has been but temporarily repaired and the entire building committee will inspect the interior of the jail before ordering the permanent repairs. The location of the opening made in the roof last delivery is the same as in previous occasions and it is anticipated that the building committee will recommend repairs which will make it impossible to effect an exit through this part of the roof in the future.

Some Talk New Jail.

Several members of the board have expressed themselves as being in favor of erecting a new jail to replace the present structure which has been condemned a number of times, but the number is not sufficient to guarantee any such action by the board. Other members of the body do not favor the proposition of placing a bond before the voters of the county, and are of the opinion that repairs can be made to guarantee the safe keeping of confined prisoners.

It has been suggested that a large steel cage constructed of bars of steel be built in the corridor, which will keep prisoners away from windows, walls and ceilings, and also the construction of a new floor. It is expected that several propositions will be submitted to the committee at this meeting for their consideration.

Do You Ever Get Tired OF THE SAME OLD MEALS?

By MARIA SPRINGETT

HOUSEWIVES occasionally become "sick and tired" of the job of getting three meals a day. They dread their planning, look with dislike on their preparation, and can hardly bring themselves to eat them.

Husbands sometimes experience the same sort of mood. They get disgusted at seeing the same eggs done the same way served for breakfast, and the same round of meats and vegetables ready for them in the evening.

There are several ways to overcome the dissatisfaction that arises at these times. Some people go out to restaurants and hotels for a few meals. Others, unfortunately, take it out on each other getting very ill-tempered and sometimes downright abusive without realizing what the cause is. Common sense says are more apt to resort to another solution, really preferable to either of these devices, because it prevents such moments arriving. These persons vary meals so that the monotony of them is not obtrusive.

The first is:

Spanish Green Olives and Cabbage in Aspic

The materials needed for this are three-quarters cup of stuffed Spanish green olives cut in thin slices, one cup of shredded cabbage, three tablespoons of mayonnaise, and for the aspic five cups of soup stock, two envelopes of gelatin, one tablespoon of vinegar, two tablespoons of chili sauce, two egg whites, and six to eight whole stuffed Spanish green olives.

The cabbage, sliced olives and mayonnaise are mixed. The aspic is made by dissolving the gelatin in one cup of cold soup stock, then adding the rest of boiling soup beaten egg whites. This is boiled for five minutes, then strained through a piece of flannel and set to cool. Next a little of the aspic stock is poured into a wet mold, the stuffed olives are arranged, and when the aspic is set around the olives more of the stock is poured on. The cabbage and olive mixture is added alternately with the aspic until all is used. It is then put aside to stiffen before being unmolded on a platter, garnished with shredded cabbage and a few stuffed olives.

This quantity serves ten people, but can be diminished according to the requirements of any household. You will likely agree that it adds variety to the festive board.

Minute Steaks Spanish Style
For this dish there are required twelve Spanish green olives, four minute steaks, half an onion, one eighth teaspoon of pepper, two tablespoons of drippings or fat, and six Spanish green olives for garnishing. The method of preparation is as follows: Rub one side of the steaks with the half onion, sprinkle with pepper. Pit the olives carefully, without breaking. Place three olives on each steak, roll. Tie the rolls with pieces of thin cord or thread. Place fat in frying pan and when hot add the rolls of meat. Cook until brown turning constantly for five to seven minutes. Serve with brown sauce containing a few chopped olives. Garnish with a pitted olive unrolled.

When the housewife becomes ambitious she may care to try also the third recipe:

Calf's Tongue With Spanish Green Olives

For this there are required three calves tongues, four small carrots cut in cubes, one onion cut fine, one cup of Spanish green olives, one quart of boiling water, one fourth teaspoon pepper, one teaspoon chopped parsley, two tablespoons of bread crumbs.

Soak the tongues in cold water for half an hour. Scald with boiling water, pour off. Cook tongues in the boiling water containing carrots, onion, parsley and pepper for one hour and a half. Remove the tongues, skin them, and return with one-half of the olives (chopped). Cook slowly one-half hour longer. Thicken the sauce by mixing the bread crumbs with two tablespoons of cold water. Cook five minutes longer. When on platter garnish with whole olives.

The next time you feel that dissatisfied attitude toward meat try one of the above recipes. I am sure it will help.

All such people can stop worrying and start to smile right now for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets, which any druggist will tell you all about is putting flesh on hosts of skinnier folks every day.

One woman, tired, weak and discouraged, put on 15 pounds in six weeks and feels fine.

We all know that Cod Liver Oil is full of fish producing vitamins, but many people can't take it because of its horrible smell and fishy taste, and because it often upsets the stomach.

McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets are as easy to take as candy, and if any thin person don't gain at least five pounds in 40 days your druggist will give you your money back—and only 4 cents a box. Ask Rowland's Drug Store, or any live pharmacist anywhere.

VALIDATING STOCKS.

It is estimated that within two weeks more than $3,000,000 had been added to the market value of American securities. The increase continues, despite an occasional setback when "Wall Street" stops to catch its breath.

Call the gain $4,000,000,000 by the time the advance shall have stopped and stocks become stabilized at their new level. What does it mean? Simply that investors are convinced that the securities are able to earn dividends on that much more capital.

And how shall they earn the increased dividends made necessary by the higher price of stocks? There are three ways:

One is by a stronger demand for goods. The boomers obviously are counting on this. They expect a much better market.

The second way is greater efficiency in the production and distribution of goods.

The third is price-raising. The public, willing to concede the first of these, hopes that there will be much of the second and little of the third.

PARVENU APPRAISAL.

The New York Times, a chief organ of democracy, could not wait until Senator Lodge was buried to inform the country that "his name was never given to any measure of constructive legislation. Many of his contemporaries with far fewer opportunities than his and with less talent impressed themselves upon the statesmanship of his day in a way that by comparison makes his name appear to have been writ in water." It does no good to the high reputation credited to the Times to place such an appraisal on Senator Lodge's forty years as a national legislator.

The influence that a senator or representative exerts on legislation is not marked by the number of bills he introduces and that bear his name. Usually the reverse is the truth. Neither does it always follow that a bill bearing an individual's name as its author closely resembles the original draft when it finally becomes law. Senator Lodge made his influence felt in committee and in the senate chamber where the legislative efforts of others were subjected to his close scrutiny. The official records of the senate and house bear ample evidence of how Senator Lodge brought his wide experience and great ability to the shaping of bills into just and workable laws. Those laws were enacted with no Lodge label attached, but they bore the impress of his talent as surely as if he had been their original author.

MERGENTHALER.

A memorial tablet to Ottomar Mergenthaler is placed on the house where he was born, in a German village. His name doesn't mean much to a reader. But he invented the linotype machine which took the place of typesetting by hand and made large newspapers possible.

If he had led an army that butchered a few million people, everyone would know his career in detail. The machine invented by Mergenthaler will, along with typewriter, paper mill and printing press, put the military butchers out of business eventually. It's largely a matter of education, and about as easy as teaching an elephant to do "fancy work."

GONE.

In an accident, Benjamin Warshofsky, 20, lost his left leg and the other was so badly smashed it's useless. A jury awards him $60,000. But he, formerly strong and athletic, sits glumly at the window and says: "What do I care for a couple dollars? They won't give me back my legs."

Money is not all, though most of us never realize it until we have lost health or become crippled. If we realized, the goal of our work would be health and sound bodies, rather than pay.

STRENGTH.

John de Vito, 18, modern Samson, is shown in news pictures lifting one end of an auto holding 13 people. Any one can do the same with a lifting jack.

Brute strength doesn't count much any more, except in occupations where inventors have not yet figured out how to use machinery instead of human muscles. What counts is: How much can you lift mentally?

PRIZEFIGHTER.

Al Brown, flyweight boxer, is 5 feet 9 inches tall, but weighs only 112 pounds. Yet he's a very hard hitter.

The average man of the same height and weighing no more wouldn't step into the prize ring for a mint.

Brown has self-confidence which, in fighting as in life, can counteract a lot of handicaps—provided you haven't too much. Yet better to have too much than not enough.

LABOR.

In 1920, out of every $1000 received by railroads, $554 was paid in wages and salaries. In 1923, only $443.

The average railroad employe has also been working harder than in 1920, in common with the general public.

The charts, as issued by the railroads, show that the saving has largely into "net income."

Thoughtful parents are those who try very hard to live up to their children.

TOM SIMS SAYS

In a single season banana trees grow as much as 40 feet, showing what ambition will do in a hard-working tree.

The Canary Islands, like Irelands, have no snakes, but it is too late for picnics now.

The sun's rays take only eight minutes to reach the earth, so it looks as if they would be all hot and tired.

Begonias grow wild in Java. We have never been there, but it may be because they stay out all night.

Russia has a population of 125,000,000, some of which, contrary to general opinion, don't need a shave.

According to a French Canadian law, stealing a kiss in Canada is not a crime, but we knew that.

There are stars so distant we see their light 36,000 years later, and perhaps there are friends that way.

With English coal reserves estimated at 155 billion tons, we would guess off-hand that American reserves are a couple of tons.

The greyhound can run 35 miles an hour, so if you get one he never should be late for supper.

The pole star is always directly over the north pole, just like apartment house dwellers in winter.

Oh gosh! Italy has a singing lightning bug. Oh well, we have singing radio bugs.

We can't resist wondering if Italy's singing lightning bug ever sings twice in the same place.

The dome of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, weighs 64,000 tons, so we realize how a man feels on the morning after.

Rhubarb juice is one of the best agents for removing iron-mold, proving the stuff is fit for something.

A town in Scotland called Oa may have been named by a man who had just lost a nickel.

It probably never will be known who threw the Wall Street bomb or started crossword puzzles.

A California scientist has discovered two more vitamins, so maybe they went there for their health.

Christmas will arrive on Thursday this year and we all should be well again by the following Monday.

Not even on craggy mountain tops.
He struggles up and bravely over!
He's courage has this wandering rover."

"He has no roof, he knows no home,
He fingers not—he loves to roam,
He does not move and yet he runs,
Neath winter snows and summer suns."

"He runs right on through town and city,
And never stops to look—a pity!
He hurries by the castle wall
And never stops to gaze at all!"

"He'll guide you any place you're going,
He'll take you there without you knowing,
He wants no thanks, he asks no pay,
For showing you the nearest way."

"He is posted for your guiding,
If you're walking—if you're riding,
The prince's coach—the farmer's load,
He helps each one, this kindly—"

"Well, I should hope that I know what that is," said the Crooked Man.
"Anybody who ran a crooked mile as often as I have should know it."

"Alack!" cried the Old Lady Banberry.
"When I rode my white horse to Banberry Cross, how could I have gotten there unless there had been a good—" "Tut! Tut!" said the Man-Who-Owned-the-Gray-Pony. "I hope to tell you that I know what the answer is. I loaned my pony to a lady and she rode him through the mire because there was no such thing as a —"

"Wait, wait," cried Mrs. John. "Mrs. Riddle Lady, what are we going to do about it? Everybody has guessed it."

"Yes, what are we going to do about it?" said Doctor Foster. "I know the answer perfectly. Why shouldn't I, when I was going to Gloster and stepped in that puddle and ruined all my clothes. When you said winter snows and summer suns, you didn't say half. Mrs. Riddle Lady, I'll beg to remind you of April showers which are the undoing of all dry roads."

"Oh, oh, oh! Doctor Foster said it!" cried all the Mother Goose people. "Doctor Foster guessed the last riddle! It's a road!"

"He didn't at all," said the Banberry Lady excitedly. "I knew it all the time."

"So did I," said the Crooked Man. "So did I!" declared the Man-Who-Owned-the-Gray-Pony. "I have no use for pushing people."

"It was a slip of the tongue, I assure you," said Doctor Foster with a bow. "I am willing to do without a prize just to show how much I mean it."

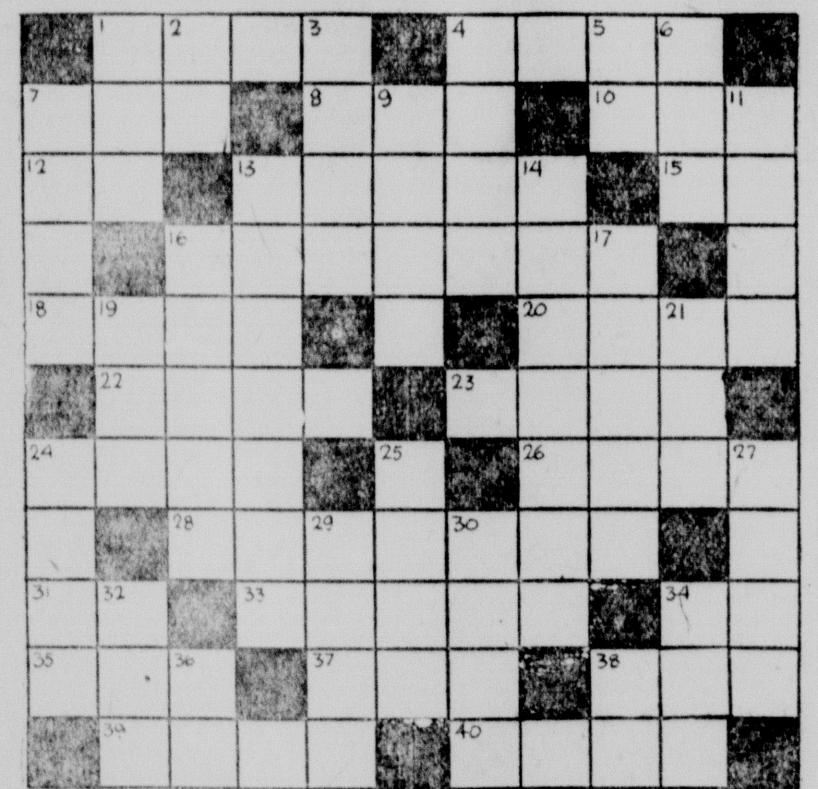

"We were only fooling," said the Crooked Man and the Old Banberry Lady and the Pony Man.

And really, my dears, I don't know yet how they settled it.

Keep Money at Home; Then You Can Get it Back

(Copyright)

When the United States of America as a means of conserving the financial resources of the country, found it advisable to pay our troops in the world war in orders rather than in cash, and gold at that, there is no longer need of an argument to uphold the "Buy At Home" movement. All arguments are answered and the mail order traders have not a leg to stand on. Why? The move on the part of our Government officials? The credit of the United States is the greatest in the world. These orders cashed in merchandise abroad will return to the United States as payment for additional goods, our gold stays here. If our Government sent the gold to Europe a larger per cent of it would stay there, for American gold is at a premium the world over. Just so with the money sent away by the mail order traders. The greater per cent of this money stays where they send it and does no good whatever to their local community. This example but illustrates, only in a larger sense, community interest. Why should the farmer or townsman send money to Chicago when the same or better goods may be purchased at home. What proof? Here it is! The larger number contributing to the support of an institution the smaller amount per capita necessary to support it. Example: If each and every man, woman and child in the United States had contributed 5 cents to the support of our war measures, just imagine the staggering figure resulting—$5,000,000,000. By this same token, if all the people of a community would patronize that community's merchants, merchants would be given a greater purchasing power, resulting in a greater reduction of costs to consumer. The money is kept in circulation in that community; bank deposits are increased, making money easier secured at a lower rate of interest. The farmer, townsman, merchant, doctor, newspaperman, barber, druggist, hardware, building material, etc., each and every one find an added income. New factories are secured, more families are brought into the town, greater housing facilities necessary, giving employment to the building tradesman. Each and every transaction made, every dollar spent, makes for the good of that particular community. The added or concerted trade there makes it possible for the merchants to carry larger and more varied selections of stocks, which, bought right, may be sold right. Such a live progressive town is an excellent market. Every foot of land within ten to fifteen miles of such a town is bound to increase in value. The people will demand better roads to a town of this sort. It is cheaper to haul grain and produce over a good road than a bad one. The better the roads the more added value to your real estate. There is absolutely no limit to the good a man can do for himself and his holdings by getting vigorously and enthusiastically into the National Buy-At-Home Movement.

Boost your home city at every opportunity—it is good for the city and its good for you. Boost your home merchants—patronize them. You'll get newer goods, newer styles, and more for your money than you can get elsewhere.

Used Kellogg's Bran 2 months—constipation gone after suffering 3 years

Three years of suffering with constipation. What happiness was his when Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, restored his health. But read his letter:

"Dear Sirs:—This is what I think of your krumbled bran. I would not be without it for anything in the world. For three years I used all kinds of medicines for constipation, and only got temporary relief. I was advised by a doctor to use Kellogg's Bran, and since I began using it I don't have to take pills or anything else. I have used it two months, and my constipation has left me. I feel better now than I have for three years."

(The original of this letter is on file at the Kellogg Company, Battle Creek, Mich.)

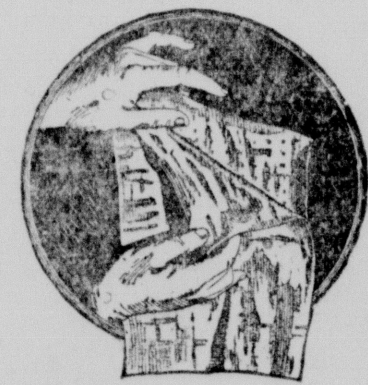

Kellogg's Bran brings results because it is ALL bran. You can't fight constipation with halfway meaasures—with bran which are only part bran. It takes ALL bran to be 100 per cent effective.

Because Kellogg's Bran is ALL bran it sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestine. It acts naturally—just as nature acts. It stimulates the intestine and makes it function regularly. It is guaranteed to bring results, or your grocer will refund your money.

Kellogg's Bran has a delicious nut-like flavor. Quite different from ordinary, unpalatable bran. You will like it as a cereal, sprinkled on other cereals, cooked with hot cereals, or in the recipes given on every package.

Eat two tablespoonsful of Kellogg's Bran every day—in chronic cases, with every meal. Made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.

HOME CONSTRUCTION OF "DUODIAL" IS OUTLINED IN DETAIL

Chicago—(By The Associated Press)—Minimum expense with maximum output, the ever sought but seldom obtained goal of the home radio constructor, has been made easy of accomplishment through great strides in the improvement of receiving apparatus and its method of assembly. Such has been the result of a redesigned regenerative set, containing three tubes.

The selectivity that is found in the "twin" variometer regenerative set with its numerous controls is maintained in this receiver, although the odds have been cut to two. The most critical is the control which adjusts the wave length, that governing regeneration being used as a volume control.

Fans seeking a name for the receiver, whose construction is simple, have selected "duodial regenerator." Its output with two steps of audio frequency is equal to that of any other type of three tube sets and it will bring in local stations with loudspeaker volume on but two tubes. Many distant stations can be heard on the speaker with all the tubes operating.

The apparatus used in the set and listed as follows should be of the best: Low loss fixed coupler, home made; low loss variable condenser whose range is from .00003 mf. minimum to .00035 mf. maximum; 3-1-2 megohm tubular grid leak; .00025 fixed grid condenser with clips for holding grid leak; standard variometer, low loss; .001 fixed condenser used as a bypass; two audio frequency transformers, 4-4 to 1 ratio; one carbon pile rheostat; two 40-ohm rheostats; one double circuit jack; one single circuit jack; phone plug; five strips of bus bar; nine binding posts; three sockets to fit the tubes used; 7x15 panel; 6x16 baseboard and one-quarter pound double silk covered wire, No. 22.

In the selection of the instruments, particular attention should be paid to the variable condenser, the variometer, the rheostats and the transformers. The variable condenser should be of the best low loss type and have the range as stated. It should have a minimum amount of both insulating material and supporting metal. Attention also should be paid to its vernier qualities.

The variometer should be of the best low loss type, a basket weave or honeycomb instrument being preferable. The detector rheostat may be of the carbon pile type, which permits very close adjustment. The two rheostats for the audio tubes may be of the wire type, but should have a resistance of at least 40 ohms to permit the use of any type of tube.

The audio transformers should be good ones, any ratio up to 6 to 1 being satisfactory, although a happy medium can be found by the use of 4-4 to 1 instruments.

Any type of tube may be used, from dry cell to storage battery. It is suggested that the 201a type be used throughout.

AGAIN UNITED

BY H. H. C.

Another good woman has passed on. In the death of Mrs. Harding, no where will she be mourned with more sincerity than in the press galleries of Washington. No woman who ever lived at the White House was held in the same regard by the Washington correspondents as Mrs. Harding. She called half of the correspondents by their first names—and this without relaxing the dignity of her position.

A great part of her life was spent as an invalid. But so great were her energies—mental and physical—that her recuperative powers always pulled her through. She was always, so we are told, suave, diplomatic and a good mixer; she was an earnest and convincing talker; well informed on many subjects; she was always honest and sincere in what she had to say—no theatricals about her.

She has gone to join her illustrious husband—a man of McKinley's type—and when the final call comes to us all and "taps" are sounded, may they fall as sweetly upon our ears and find us all as ready to sink to slumber, as they did for Florence Kling Harding.

The wives of some of the Presidents of our day have deluded themselves into the idea that they belonged to the royalty and nobility. Mrs. Harding was "just plain folks." The first morning she was in the White House, so it is said, she ordered the big White House gates unlocked and thrown wide open. During Mrs. Wilson's regime they were bolted like the gates of a castle.

But that's a different story.

SESSION WITH
STAGG AND Mc-
CARTHY IS "IT""Old Man" Made Full Back Cry, Then He Made Good.

By Billy Evans

Fate and football often go hand in hand.

Chicago has won the "Big Ten" grid title and Fate must deserve a rating in the summary as having scored the winning touchdown.

This time Fate hit upon "Five Yards" McCarthy, Chicago's plunging back as its victim. Thereby hangs an interesting tale.

Prior to the Illinois game the Chicago team was the guest of honor at a social function, which had Coach Stagg as the chief speaker of the occasion.

When the guests sat down to dinner, a chair reserved near the head of the table for one of the Chicago stars was vacant. It developed that "Five Yards" McCarthy was the absentee.

Stagg Plainly Peeved

Coach Stagg was plainly nettled. He passed the remark that all but one of his regulars appreciated the courtesy that had been extended the Chicago team.

Early the next morning former Maroon stars and prominent alumni made it a point to inform McCarthy that he had grievously erred, seriously offended his coach. All suggested that he try to make amends.

"Football games are not won at banquet tables. Oratory, which is mostly hot air, never made any touchdowns on the football field. And besides I wasn't hungry."

That is the way McCarthy explained his absence from the social function.

McCarthy Interviews Coach

However, McCarthy was prevailed upon to call on his coach and try to get back in Stagg's good graces.

The story is that the day of the Illinois game McCarthy was closeted with Stagg for an hour.

What passed between the two no one but Stagg and McCarthy will probably ever know. McCarthy is the fighting type; there doesn't seem to be much sentiment in his makeup; a fellow who apparently believes solely in the survival of the fittest.

However, when he emerged from Stagg's office those who know say that he was brushing aside tears, proof that laughter was no part of the program.

Played Game of Career

That afternoon McCarthy played the game of his career. He tied with Harold "Red" Grange for the honors of the day. A draw would have been a good decision as the game ended in a 21-21 tie.

Walter Camp, famous football authority, who was a spectator, said no football game that he ever saw compared with the Illinois-Chicago game as far as the work of McCarthy and Grange was concerned.

In that one game "Five Yards" McCarthy won national recognition as a gridiron star. Almost alone he tied the powerful Illinois eleven, up until then considered well nigh unbeatable.

An aversion to social affairs and a lack of hunger, homely words for Fate, touched off the fire that made "Five Yards" McCarthy a football hero and Stagg the "Old Master," a real 1924 comeback.

Pair of Granges for Illinois Is Possible

Chicago, Dec. 2.—(By The Associated Press)—A pair of "Red" Granges, as half backs in the University of Illinois lineup is a possibility for the 1925 gridiron season. Garland Grange, younger brother of the famous Harold, the most satisfactory producer of football thrills the nation has known for years, will be eligible for the varsity eleven next year.

Young Grange or "Pinkey" as he is known to distinguish him from the original "Red", played halfback on the all-freshman team in the 1924 season and did a great deal of passing for the yearlings. Grange, the younger, stands 5 feet, 11 inches, is 18 years old and weighs 165 pounds.

While he did not make a particular outstanding showing against the varsity this year, young Grange was handicapped by the fact that he had been ill and was 20 pounds under weight most of the season.

Coach Robert Zupke is commenting today on the youngster, said he runs in identically the same manner as "Red," taking long, easy, ground-out, long strides when he gets under way.

The opening session is scheduled for 1 o'clock with a report of standing committees, appointment of special committees and other routine business on the calendar.

Virtually every major league club is represented here, on the lookout for deals.

McTigue Unable to Make the Welterweight Limit

By Associated Press Leased Wire

New York, Dec. 2.—Mickey Walker's welterweight title will be safe when he meets Mike McTigue, light heavyweight champion, in the Newark Armory on January 7 but he will have a chance at his opponent's honors. Articles for the match were signed yesterday.

McTigue's inability to make the welterweight limit puts Walker's crown out of danger while if he fails to complete the scheduled 12 rounds as the result of knockout, disqualification or foul, he will surrender his own laurels.

HARD TACK

These little bars are so unusual and delicious that they may well be added to a box of Christmas sweets.

Two eggs, 1 cup granulated sugar, 1 cup flour, 1 cut stoned and chopped dates, 1 cup broken black walnut meats, 1/4 teaspoon soda, 1/4 teaspoon salt.

Beat eggs well. Mix and sift flour, soda, sugar and salt and stir into eggs. Add dates and nuts and work until smooth with a wooden spoon. Spread as thinly as possible on a well-oiled and floured dripping pan and bake 15 minutes in a moderately hot oven. Cut in bars and remove from the pan while warm.

Tiger Flowers, colored middleweight, is the son of a Georgia parson and a close student of the Bible himself.

This will probably be Bill Roper's last year as Princeton coach. But then he has retired before.

Despite John McGraw's opinion, Travis Jackson is not the best shortstop in the game. He's far too erratic to be so classed.

Coaches using the huddle system are strong for it over the old method of calling signals. More accurate, they claim.

Sandy Herd, at the age of 57, was the outstanding figure in this year's British professional championship.

If aerial football continues to grow in popularity, the next step will be to play it from airplanes and dirigibles.

Coaching a major college football team is now a precarious job. The big overhead of the various stadiums makes it necessary to turn out a winner.

"Herb" McCracken, Lafayette's youthful football coach, learned the grid game at Pittsburgh under "Pop" Warner's direction.

Two successive defeats apparently are about enough of Notre Dame for Princeton. The colleges had only a two year agreement.

Dartmouth is sitting pretty in eastern football. Yale, Harvard and Princeton all offer dates for next season.

Coach Zupke of Illinois is developing Grange as a kicker. He will be a sure enough triple threat man then. Few teams resort to the forward pass in an effort to score a point after touchdown. A foul goal is usually attempted.

Coach Rockne of Notre Dame doesn't like one-man football teams. That is why the loss of a star seldom slows up his proteges.

The Well-Dressed Man
By BEAUNASH
Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

Why Is A Muffler?
Style is like a shadow. Fly from it and it follows you. Follow it and it flies from you. You can point your finger at it, but you cannot put your finger on it. Style is not merely the clothes a man wears, but also the way he wears them. Style is not only being immaculately well-dressed, but also being impeccably well-groomed. Style is not wholly the cut and fit of one's clothes, but also the taste, personality and color-harmony they express. Style is a cloth edition of good manners.

There is one thing that style is not; never has been; never will be, and that thing is "originality." When a man turns himself out so conspicuously that the attention of the looker-on goes to the clothes instead of to the wearer, that is originality of a type which makes a mook of true style. A man's dress should be the binding on the hook; the frame around the picture; the background of the scene, and nothing more. It should dawn on the observer gradually like the rising sun, not blind him like the midday sun.

Do not attempt to be an "original" dresser. He is always looked upon with curiosity and often with contempt. Do not adopt styles, colors and combinations that are totally different from those other men wear. To wax poetical about a practical subject, "Be not the first by whom the new is tried, nor yet the last to lay the old aside." Originality is the scourge of correct dress. It has done more than any other single factor to make sound style, which should command respect, seem ridiculous.

Why is a muffler? It is designed, first, to lend more color and character to a man's cold-weather turnout, and, secondly, to guard one's collar from smudges by rubbing against the cloth or velvet of the overcoat. A smart muffler "dresses up" the neck engagingly and effectively. It sounds a crisp and cheerful note by relieving the darkness or accentuating the brightness of one's overcoat. Half a dozen mufflers of different colors and designs are not too many for The Well-Dressed Man to own.

The muffler or reefer, illustrated here, is of soft, rich, dark-colored English foulard or pongee silk having a pattern composed of contrasting polka dots. This type goes best with a light-colored overcoat. To accompany a dark-colored one you should choose the bright-hued stripes, plaids and all-over designs either in silk or Scotch wool, such as flannel, cashmere, camel's hair, Angora, Shetland and so on. Mufflers may be knitted as well as woven and particularly smart and colorful are the Roman stripe effects.

LITTLE MOTHERS CLUBS IN EVERY COUNTY IS PLAN

State Health Department Plans Campaign in for Children.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 3—"Little mothers clubs" will be organized in every county in Illinois if the plans of the state department of public health materialize, according to a statement issued today by Dr. Isaac D. Rawlings, state director of health. Work along this line has already begun, the first club, with about 20 members, having recently been established in St. Charles.

"The object of the clubs," said Dr. Rawlings, "is to promote the health and well being of infants and children as well as that of the mothers. Vigorous clubs of the character anticipated in the plans would certainly constitute an important factor in reducing the infant mortality in the state.

"Mothers of young children and prospective mothers will be eligible for membership in the clubs. Each member will be required to take a pledge relating to the execution of well recognized, fundamental principles in child care. Each club will be an independent unit so that organizations may be created in any favorable district and may function to the best advantage to its members.

"Club programs will relate wholly to prenatal and child care. This will include such important items as diet, habit, medical service, immunization against preventable diseases and training. Material along these lines will be furnished from authoritative sources so that the mothers may have the benefit of the best medical opinions. Such a course will minimize the danger from 'old wives' tales' and will tend to relieve young mothers from a great deal of experimental procedures that are sometimes exceedingly costly. It will teach mothers to depend on scientific fact more than upon current gossip or proprietary medicine propaganda.

"The courses of instruction for the clubs will be outlined by the chief of the division of child hygiene of the state department of health. They will involve talks by local members of the medical profession, the study of authoritative books and pamphlets and a correspondence course on prenatal care for club members who desire it.

"The plan anticipates the frequent examination of infants and children by competent physicians. For those who are able to pay for this service the family physician is recommended. Others may take their children to infant hygiene centers which are already established or which will be created under the influence of the club.

"At the present time the first year of life is by all odds the most hazardous that a person is ever called upon to face. An average of 10,000 babies under one year of age die annually in

IV—THE FASCINATING MISS PATERSON

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Corrigan is proprietor of the Orange-Patch estate in Borneo. A young man by the name of Paterson comes to the plantation to temporarily replace Donald White, one of Corrigan's overseers. Paterson brings with him a sister, who immediately captivates the attention of Fellowes, Corrigan's first assistant.

"I've heard quite a lot about you in Singapore," Miss Paterson tells Corrigan. "My friends, the Davises, knew you in Perak." Fellowes gives over his bungalow to Paterson and his sister. Miss Paterson arouses Corrigan's suspicion because he never knew the pretty woman who could completely master the Malay language in two months, and besides that, he never remembers meeting the Davises. Now ten days have elapsed since the arrival of Paterson and his sister. It is evening. Paterson is away. Miss Paterson is sleeping. Fellowes and Corrigan are on the veranda.

"Darkness followed quickly on the heels of a brief twilight, and still Fellowes remained glued to the veranda floor, his feet on the topmost step of the narrow flight. It was an uncommonly bad sign that the arrival of the whisky had not succeeded in rousing him from his lethargy. The first assistant believed he knew his own mind, but wished he could sit to the bottom of Corrigan's velvet antipathy to the girl whose violet eyes were troubling his mind. He had never known Corrigan to make a mistake, and that was precisely what was worrying him at that moment. Corrigan's assistants formed themselves upon their lord and master, and Fellowes was no exception to that rule. And yet he felt so sure about Enid. In an affair of heart, ten days is, in normal circumstances, an unreasonably short period on which to base the extent of one's affections; but on board ship and in lonely portions of the earth's surface conditions are admittedly abnormal.

The arrival of the object of his dreams, attired in a wonderfully embroidered kimono, put an abrupt conclusion to his reverie.

"Please don't get up," she implored. "You look so delightfully comfortable. Why, you must be ill! You haven't had your evening drink!"

She uncorked the bottle and poured out an over-generous helping of spirit.

Before he could gather his wits together, she had thrust the glass into his hand and had smuggled down on the floor beside him.

"It's really too good of you," he murmured, watching the bubbles rising. "Ted's rather late tonight. Wonder what on earth he can have found to occupy him."

Enid's eyes opened wide.

"Hasn't he come home yet? Isn't it disgraceful? I've been asleep for ages!"

The space between the two door posts was absurdly small. They were so tightly wedged in that he began to wonder how on earth they were going to get out! Her protest was positively embarrassing. Stray strands of her black hair kept touching his neck. He rather liked the scent she used. It was strangely intoxicating.

"I hope you're comfortable, Miss Paterson?" he asked, after a pause. "There's not much room to spare in there."

"Don't you like me being here?" she murmured. She spoke softly, but Fellowes thought he could detect a slight suspicion of pain.

"Of course I do," he blurted out hastily. "I was feeling pretty down in the mouth until you came out. It's perfectly splendid of you to stay here. Are you sure that post isn't hurting you?"

He took a deep draught and put the glass down on the floor behind him.

Cough Remedy Mother Gave Us Still Best
Pine Tar and Honey Best All Modern Drugs

In thousands of families it has been the custom for many years to keep pine tar and honey always on hand for coughs, chest colds, bronchitis, spasms and other ailments. Our mothers knew that it was good, that it often broke up the worst cough in a few hours, and that it could be given to young and old alike, as it contains no narcotics or harmful drugs.

And now we are told that in spite of modern medical discoveries there is still no better or quicker cough remedy. Doctors say the pine tar quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion that cause the coughing, also healing soreness, while the honey not only gives a pleasant taste, but helps soothe irritation.

The original compound, made up many years ago and used by millions of people, was Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey. This is scientifically composed of just the right proportions of pine tar, honey and other quick-acting, healing ingredients which the best doctors have found to aid in quick relief. If you want the original and the best, be sure you get Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey and no other. Only 39c at any good druggists.

LOONEY EVADES PEACE OFFICERS TO GET TO TRIAL

Rock Island Deputy Among Those Who "Lost" Him.

Peoria, Ill., Dec. 1.—John P. Looney, former publisher of the Rock Island News, wanted in that city on various indictments, one charging murder, the outgrowth of a vice war there two years ago, arrived in Peoria by automobile Monday morning and in federal court here demanded trial on an indictment charging him with interstate transportation of a stolen automobile. The federal indictment was returned here more than a year ago.

Evading two deputy sheriffs, one of whom was F. O. Yocum, of Rock Island who held a warrant for his arrest on the murder charge, Looney appeared before United States District Judge Louis Fitzhugh, sitting quietly in the court room while his attorneys, John Daugherty and Irvine Wasson, of Peoria, demanded the trial.

Mrs. Gertrude B. Warner, assistant U. S. attorney, protested against trying Looney this term, contending that she is overloaded with work, is handling all of the work of the United States district attorneys office here by herself and that it would be impossible for her to handle the trial.

Demands Trial At Once
Looney's counsel argued that Looney is entitled to a trial this term. Judge Fitzhugh set the trial for December 22. Looney was given into the custody of U. S. Deputy Marshal Ted Zelnin and was lodged in the Peoria County Jail with the privilege to replace the bonds of $10,000 he furnished at New Mexico with new bonds to that amount here.

Looney was kept in hiding here while awaiting the call of his case, and his attorneys considered it a victory in that they rushed him into the federal court before the deputy sheriffs served the murder warrant. According to Deputy Sheriff Dick O'Brien, Peoria, one of the two, a close watch over him will be kept at the county jail and should he leave the prison to furnish bail the warrant will be served.

Not Trying To Dodge
Looney told reporters he is not trying to dodge the murder warrant but that he "wants to clear up all the charges" against him as he goes and that when the federal charge here is "disposed of" he will continue to Rock Island to face charges against him there.

"They want to parade me through the streets of Rock Island with a land and all that. They want to make a spectacle of me with my hands manacled. That's what my enemies want to do. But if they will only let me go quietly into Rock Island and give me an hour's time my friends there will soon furnish bond for me. I am not afraid of any of the charges. They are ill-founded. You see, I've always been for the under dog with my paper and now I'm getting it in the neck by the millionaires."

Looney said the federal charge here was a "frame up" to get him back to Rock Island.

"My enemies could not get me back there on the state charges so they framed this automobile charge. I've noticed that they haven't even arrested the man in whose possession they found the automobile they charge me with transporting. I didn't need to steal automobiles. I had plenty of my own."

Talked Very Frankly
Interviewed in the marshal's office, Looney's firmness of expression while in the court room shifted to a broad smile and he talked to reporters very frankly. Looney said that his assistance to the "under dogs" is the seed to all this trouble. He illustrated this with several stories, one of which he aid, was a "whiskey deal" in Rock Island several years ago. Two young men sold a lot of whiskey to certain persons in Rock Island, he said, and the whiskey turned out to be water.

He forced the young men to give back their "ill-gained money" and by doing so started trouble for himself, he said. Looney came to Peoria accompanied by two young men, one a negro who drove the automobile and who is said to have been one of the alleged vice king's henchmen during the Rock Island difficulties.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO THE LITTLE MARQUISE, CARE OF THE SECRET DRAWER, CONTINUED

Yes, little Marquise, I am a man and Jack and Sally Atherton are greater friends than Jack and I are. He tells her things that he would never think of telling me, and I am his wife.

Before my marriage I had a deep-seated idea that man and woman could not be lovers without being friends or comrades. I have come to the conclusion that when a man wants a pal he usually goes to his own sex and occasionally to another woman.

The masculine ideal of a sweet heart is a woman sensuous at all times instead of sensible. Consequently after marriage when man finds that his wife must be sensible occasionally it upsets his whole philosophy. A man gives his wife the admiration of a lover but withholds the much more subtle compliment—the respect and regard of a friend.

Here I go, little Marquise, analyzing and criticizing the masculine nature just after I have received this satisfying letter from Jack.

Oh, I cannot tell you how happy it made me and yet all the while it seemed too good to be true. If I should explain this reaction to Jack, he would say that I couldn't look at things sanely in my condition.

Of course, little Marquise, you never having been a mother, cannot advise, but I would like to know why everyone thinks that a woman in my condition should suffer any mental or physical pains just now. It is a perfectly natural condition, quite as commonplace as eating and sleeping and quite as necessary to the preservation of the human race. Yet everyone always acts as though it were something entirely new to the universe, something unique.

I think it is a foregone conclusion, little Marquise, that Zoe Ellington will come to us. Jack was going to see her the evening he wrote my letter. He seems to think that if she is all that Ruth thinks she is, she will be a great help to me—and yet I worry about it all. Taking a stranger into your house is a very serious thing. I hope the girl will like me. I presume all this coming upon me when I have had such a disconcerting letter from Jack's mother, is the real reason why I anticipate having some unhappiness in the future. Mrs. Prescott has written me a particularly nasty letter in which she tells me that I own half the lingerie shop and threatens to tell Jack.

You may think this is a perfectly ridiculous thing to worry about, for certainly a wife that can earn as much money as I have earned in the last year in an absolutely legitimate manner, ought to fill her husband's mind with pride.

I know, however, that Jack will not like it and I am in for a bad quarter of an hour.

GRAPEFRUIT FOR TURKS

Constantinople.—The "morning grape fruit" has become an integral part of the breakfast fare of aristocratic Turkish families. While grapefruit is becoming a common dish in European and American households, it is yet a rich man's luxury in Turkey.

FROM PERSONAL EXPERIENCE

Mrs. Bradford Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Phoebus, Virginia.—"Having this opportunity I just cannot refrain from saying a word of praise for the Lydia E. Pinkham medicine. I have used them on occasion required for twenty years, and my three sisters have also used them, and always with the most gratifying results. During the Change of Life I had the usual distressing symptoms—hot flashes, insomnia, etc.—and I am pleased to testify to the wonderful results I obtained from the Vegetable Compound. I heartily recommend it to any woman and I will be pleased to answer any inquiries that might be sent to me through the publication of my testimonial."—Mrs. H. L. BRADFORD, 109 Armistead St., Phoebus, Va.

Consider carefully Mrs. Bradford's letter. Her experience ought to help you. She mentions the trials of middle age and the wonderful results she obtained from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you are suffering from nervous troubles, irritability, or if other annoying symptoms appear and you are blue at times, you should give the Vegetable Compound a fair trial. For sale by druggists everywhere.
